Red Revolution Inaugurated in Russia, Because Czar Met a Demand for Right to Petition With Armed Force.

Workmen Assemble to Plead for Redress of Wrongs, Are Cut Down by Imperial Order---The Snow in Front of the Palace Dyed With the Blood of Hundreds.

[Special to the DAILY REPUBLICAN.]

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—The conflict between the military and the public was resumed to-day, and is raging fiercely. On the Nevski Prospekt the troops again fired on the crowds, killing and wounding many.

A member of the emperor's household is quoted as saying today that this conflict will end the war with Japan and that Russia will have a constitution or Emperor Nicholas will lose his head.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—Sunday was a day of unspeakable horror in St. Petersburg. The strikers of yesterday, goaded to desperation by a day of violence, fury and bloodshed, are in a state of open insurrection against the government. A condition almost bordering on civil war exists in the terror-stricken Russian capital. The city is under martial law, with Prince Vasilevichoff as commander of over 50,000 of the emperor's crack guards. Troops are bivouacking in the streets and at various places on the Nevsky Prospekt, the main thoroughfare of the city. On the island of Vassili Ostrov and in the industrial sections infuriated men have thrown up barricades, which they are holding. The empress dowager has hastily sought safety at Tsarskoe Selo, where Emperor Nicholas II. is living.

Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented to his majesty Saturday night the invitation of the workmen to appear at the winter palace Sunday afternoon and receive their petition, but the emperor's advisers already had taken a decision to show a firm and resolute front, and the emperor's answer to 100,000 workmen trying to make their way to the palace square Sunday was a solid array of troops, who met them with rifle, bayonet and saber. The great Gopon, the leader and idol of the men, in his golden vestments, holding aloft the cross and marching at the head of thousands of workmen through the Narva gate, miraculously escaped a volley which laid low half a hundred persons. The figures of the total number killed or wounded here at the Moscow gate, at various bridges and islands and at the winter palace, vary. The best estimate is 500, although there are exaggerated figures placing the number as high as 5,000. Many men were accompanied by their wives and children, and in the confusion, which left no time for discrimination, the latter shared the fate of the men. The troops, with the exception of a single regiment, which is reported to have thrown down its arms, remained loyal and obeyed orders. But the blood which crimsoned the snow has fired the brains and passions of the strikers and turned women as well as men into wild beasts, and the cry of the infuriated populace is for vengeance.

The sympathy of the middle classes is with the workmen. If Father Gopon, the master mind of the movement, aimed at open revolution he managed the affair like a genius to break the faith of the people in the "Little Father," whom they were convinced and whom Father Gopon had taught them to believe, would right their wrongs and redress their grievances. Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, expresses the opinion that Sunday's work will break the faith of the people in the emperor. He said last evening: "Today inaugurated revolution in Russia. The emperor's prestige will be irrevocably shattered by the shedding of innocent blood. He has alienated himself forever from his people. Gopon taught the workmen to believe that an appeal direct to the "Little Father" would be heeded. They have been deceived. Gopon is now convinced that peaceful means have failed and that the only remedy is force. The first blood has been shed, but more will follow. It is now the people against the oppressors, and the battle will be fought to the bitter end."

At a big meeting last night the following from M. Gorky, the novelist, was read: "Beloved Associates—We have no emperor. Innocent blood lies between him and the people. Now begins the people's struggle for freedom. May it prosper. My blessing on you all. Would I might be with you tonight; but I have much to do." The military authorities had a firm grip on every artery in the city. At daybreak guards, regiments, cavalry and infantry held every bridge across the frozen Neva, the network of canals which interlaces the city, and the gates leading from the industrial section, while in the palace square, at the storm center, were massed dragoon regiments, infantry and Cossacks of the guards. Barred from the bridges and gates, men, women and children crossed the frozen river and canals on the ice by twos and threes, hurrying to the palace square, where they were sure the emperor would be present to hear them. But the street approaches to the square were cleared by volleys and Cossack charges. Men and women, infuriated to frenzy by the loss of loved ones, cursed the soldiers, while they retreated. Men harangued the crowds, telling them that the emperor had failed them and that the time had come to act. Men began to build barricades in the Nevsky Prospekt and at other points, using any material that came to hand, and even chopping down telegraph poles.

Fighting meantime continued at various places, soldiers volleying and charging the mob. The whole city was in a state of panic. Women were running through the streets seeking lost members of their families. Several barricades were carried by the troops. Toward 8 o'clock in the evening the crowds, exhausted, began to disperse, leaving the military in possession. As they retreated up the Nevsky Prospekt the workmen put out all the lights. The little chapel at the Narva gate was wrecked. On the Kaminstov Island all the lights were extinguished.

Every officer wearing the uniform of the emperor who was found alone was mobbed. A general was killed on the Nicholas bridge and a dozen officers were seized, stripped of their epaulets and deprived of their swords.

It is rumored that M. Witte will be appointed dictator, but the report is not confirmed. The authorities, while they seem to realize the magnitude of the crisis with which the dynasty and the autocracy are confronted, apparently are paralyzed for the moment. Intense indignation is bound to be aroused all over Russia. The workmen and revolutionists expect news from Moscow and other big centers, where the troops are not of the same class as the guards regiments of St.

Petersburg.

The Warsaw & Baltic railroad is reported to have been torn up for a mile and a half, but the damage is said to have been repaired.

There are rumors of trouble in Finland and disaffection of the troops. Comment on the action of the troops and authorities is very bitter, and sarcastic remarks are made that officers are braver against the defenseless public than against the Japanese, and that "ammunition may be scarce in the far East, but it is too plentiful here."

The workmen are arming with every available weapon for a renewal of the struggle. They have few firearms, but are improvising trade implements into weapons.

Circassians Revolt.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 23.—Captain Orlan Cullen, representative of the Imperial Marine Association of Tokio, received a cablegram from Constantinople last night to the effect that 1,500 Circassians had revolted and killed the Russian guard, numbering 200, at Slavini, in the Caucasus, and that Russians and Turks in large numbers were crossing the frontier into the Caucasus to spread revolution in Tiflis province. Tiflis city is practically in a state of siege, he said, and communication is had only by dispatch bearers.

London, Jan. 23.—Such phrases as these, extracted from editorial articles in the London newspapers sufficiently indicate the opinion held here of yesterday's events in St. Petersburg:

"Revolt has been quelled and revolution begun."

"The bureaucracy has declared its policy; it is the policy of Blagovestchenk—massacre."

"The inevitable reaction has begun and with it a new chapter in Russia's history and probably also in the history of Europe and Asia."

"The revolutionary movement in Russia has received its baptism of blood, its crown of martyrdom."

"Is there a Mirabeau or even a Danton in Russia today?"

"A very grave responsibility lies today at the door of the czar, who has failed to grasp his unique opportunity."

"The 'Little Father' has become the murderer of his people, and it remains with him to save the country from disaster. Even at the eleventh hour he may do so, but only by recognizing that autocracy has gone forever."

It is pointed out that the fate of Russia does not depend upon the people of St. Petersburg alone, but on the masses throughout the country; and it is considered that the events of recent months connected with the agitation for constitutional reform sufficiently attest the people's temper.

Some of the special dispatches from St. Petersburg comment upon the unexpectedly determined attitude displayed by the Russian workmen yesterday as revealing a new phase in the character of the patient masses.

Many special correspondents give extravagant reports. For instance, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says that 20,000 people from Kolpino were met at the Moscow arch, on the confines of St. Petersburg, with six volleys and that a thousand fell dead and 1,500 wounded. Other correspondents state that the workmen have proclaimed their intention to attack private property, and that Minister of Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky has consented to receive a deputation of workmen today. Whilst many estimate the casualties as anywhere near 2,000 killed and 5,000 wounded, there is everywhere conclusive evidence of the impossibility of yet estimating with any degree of exactitude.

France Makes Comparisons.

Paris, Jan. 23.—The news of the bloody events in St. Petersburg has caused a profound sensation here. A graphic comparison is being made between the position of Emperor Nicholas II. and King Louis XVI. on the eve of the reign of terror.

ADMIRAL DEWEY IS DISTURBED.

Admiral Dewey's peace of mind has been greatly disturbed lately by "sight-seeing automobiles," each carrying thirty or forty people, which stop in front of his home in Washington three times a day in the effort to get a glimpse of the Admiral or Mrs. Dewey. Even more annoying than the stare of forty pairs of eyes is the witticism of the guide, who shouts through the megaphone in a voice that can be heard a block away:

"The red hose to your right—given by the American people to Admiral Dewey, who destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay and came to Washington to be captured by a lone woman."—Saturday Evening Post.

TO PROTECT THE QUAILS

Resolutions Drafted by the Farmer's Institute Favor Quail Legislation.

Want Better Experiment Station —Election of Officers and Ladies' Prizes.

Rush County farmers have but repeated the desires of all the farmers in this part of the State who feel that the quail should be protected from extinction by proper legislation.

There is also a feeling prevalent in the counties and further advanced by the farmers of this county, that the experiment station at Purdue University should be improved in order to widen its scope of usefulness.

In order to bring this about the farmers of this county feel that the State Legislature should appropriate a sum for making the station larger and more complete. The matter was discussed at the institute held in this city and the farmers' wishes were expressed in the usual resolutions which not only extend a vote of thanks to those who labored to make the institute a success, but which express the wishes of the institute in regard to the protection of quail. The resolutions are as follows:

As we view the great growth in merit and effectiveness of the Farmers' Institute in Rush county, we realize that the task of bringing about this condition has been a work requiring a great sacrifice of personal pleasure and a persistent application to duty on the part of President Will L. Brown and Secretary Will Amos.

Therefore, we, the farmers of Rush county in institute assembled, extend to them our most earnest gratitude and wish them the greatest success in their endeavors.

Also do we thank all others who have aided the success of the meeting, whether it be in music, discussion or otherwise.

Our thanks are also due to Prof. W. C. Latta for having sent us such able speakers, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Burton and Mr. Agee, whose talks have been such an inspiration to us for future progress.

After listening to Mr. Agee's talk on the "Future Agriculture," and realizing that the time is now here when we as farmers, who hope to successfully compete in the keen business rivalry must be fully equipped for our work and that it behooves us to make use of every opportunity, and as there is a bill now pending in the Legislature of Indiana, which seeks to increase the effectiveness of the Agricultural Experiment Station of Lafayette to broaden its scope and to bring the results of its investigation directly to the farmers, therefore, we respectfully ask and urge our Representative, Hon. H. E. Guffin, and our Joint Senator, Hon. E. E. Hendee, to use all the power at their command to secure the passage of this bill in its present form.

Whereas it has been demonstrated that the quail is the farmers' friend in gathering and feeding on many injurious insects, therefore, be it resolved that we are in favor of the Legislature now assembled enacting a law which will effectively prevent the hunting of quail for a period of six to ten years.

Resolved that we favor the introduction of the teaching of agricultural principles into the rural school, under proper and sensible restrictions.

T. A. COLEMAN,
OWEN S. HENLEY,
WILLIAM A. ALLEN.

The institute of 1905 was one of the most successful ever held by the association and as expressed in the vote of thanks the members consider themselves deeply indebted to Mr. Agee and the remainder of the speakers for their work.

The ladies held a fine exhibit of bread and butter and the prizes as awarded are as follows:

Yeast Bread—Mrs. Will Horton, first; Mrs. Marshall Blackledge, second.
Salt Rising Bread—Mrs. Ad. Spivey, first; Mrs. Marshall Blackledge second.
Butter—Mrs. Kelso first; Mrs. L. L. Ferree second.

Just before the close of the meeting

the institute elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

MONDAY CIRCLE.

Interesting Meeting Held at the Home of Miss Mabel Bonnell.

The Monday Circle met with Miss Mabel Bonnell this afternoon at two o'clock. The subject for the afternoon was "Primitive Americans," and the following program was given: "Famous Indian Chiefs," Miss Jennie Madden.
"Indian Folklore," Mrs. Jennie Innis.
Reading, "Custer's Heroine," Miss Ida Spurrier.
Song, "Juanita," "The Selected Few."

BROKE DOWN

Big Four freight engine No. 2, hauling south-bound gravel train broke down just north of the C., H. & D. crossing, about 1:30 Sunday morning. The train had stopped for the brakeman to throw a switch and when it started up again the middle drive wheel on the right hand side of the engine fell off. The axle broke and showed an old fracture extending nearly half way through its diameter. Other slight damages to the side rods resulted. If the train had been going at full speed there might have been a bad accident. The engine was run onto the side track and the track cleared for traffic. No one was hurt.

THIRD LECTURE

Rev. T. H. McConnell is Greeted by Another Large Audience.

Rev. T. H. McConnell delivered the third of his series of lectures on his trip to the Holy Land, last night at the First Presbyterian church. Another large audience crowded both the auditorium and the Sunday school room. At the opening of the meeting all took part in a short song service, led by Mr. Carl Morris and Miss Lucia Wilson. After the scripture reading and prayer, Mr. Morris sang "That Sweet Story of Old," which was greatly appreciated by the audience.

In Rev. McConnell's introductory talk he gave a short history of the Jews, telling of their power and glory up to the time of Christ, of their sin, the crucifixion of the Saviour and the curse that sin had brought to their nation. He also showed how the Jews were at the head of the nations of the earth in the great arts, music, painting, literature, science and philosophy.

The subject of this lecture was "The Church of the Holy Sepulcher." The pictures were very fine, showing views of Jerusalem as it is approached from different directions, several different pictures of Jews mourning the downfall of their city at the famous "Wailing Place," and very fine views of the different mission churches of the city. He gave a short but interesting history of the church of the Holy Sepulcher, and the illustrations were splendid. The last two views were of Solomon's temple at the time of Christ and a view of Jerusalem as it is today, showing both the power and glory of the city and her people and its decline and misery. The subject for next Sunday evening, Jan. 29th, is Gethsemane and Mt. Hebron, and everyone is cordially invited.

DIRECTOR IS STILL HOPEFUL

Thinks the Prospects of Securing the C., G. & R. are Better Than Ever.

Walter McConaha, of Centerville, one of the directors of the C., G. & R., is of the opinion that work on that road will soon begin. Mr. McConaha states that he has more faith in the construction of the road than at any time since the project was launched. The promoters are working quietly at present, but will have a definite announcement to make in a short time.

The promoters of the C., G. & R. are not making any great prophecies about their proposed line, but it has been learned that their ultimate aim is an air line from Louisville to Cleveland, and that the road will be one of the best constructed electric lines in the country. The line from Columbus, Ind., to Richmond will be the first part of the road built, but the promoters do not promise to stop there. The failure of the Appleyard syndicate in Ohio will have nothing to do with the C., G. & R. C. N. Wilson, the former general manager of the road, gave out the impression that Appleyard was behind the C., G. & R., but this was apparently done for effect, as the Indiana road is entirely independent of the defunct Ohio syndicate.

WATSON WANTS TARIFF REDUCED

Will Urge 25 Per Cent Reduction Between Philippines and United States.

Louis Ludlow, the Washington correspondent to the Indianapolis Star, says: Congressman Watson is getting ready to take up his battle in behalf of a reduction in the tariff rates between the Philippines and the United States to 25 per cent. of the Dingley rates. He had long interviews today with Col. Clarence Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau in the War Department, and O. P. Austin, chief of the Bureau of Statistics. He is informing himself thoroughly on the subject and will be prepared to make a speech in behalf of tariff reduction between the islands and this country.

"I would favor free trade between the Philippines and United States if this country were not in need of revenues," he said. "As it is, I want to see the rates reduced to 25 per cent. of the Dingley tariff, the proceeds to be used in administering the Philippine government."

The proposed reduction will affect only tobacco and sugar schedules. Manufacturers of those articles are already bombarding Congress with protests. The Ways and Means Committee, on which Mr. Watson is a member, will begin its hearing on the subject Monday morning. It promises to be an engrossing subject from now on. Beet sugar men of Michigan have a delegation here to try to prevent a change in the present schedules.

When considering expenditures on the navy perhaps it would be well to keep in mind the fact that a big navy is likely to cost the country less in the long run than a weak one.

It has been but a short time since a shipment of gold across the sea
would have attracted general attention among business men and not a great while since a large shipment would have created a panic. Now shipments are made and attract little more attention than when gold comes this way. A great part of this is to be attributed to sound financial legislation and sound administration at Washington, all of which has been supported by the Republican party.

Sunday's demonstration in St.
Petersburg, and the terrible slaughter of workmen and innocent women and children may be the beginning of the end of the Romanoff dynasty and of autocratic rule in Russia. No man can predict the final outcome. Certain it is that the czar will continue to rule by blood and iron and the people will continue to rebel. Neither the sword nor the knout can make peace between a ruler and a discontented and oppressed people.

Some impatience manifested of the legislature reminds us that we should keep in mind the fact that while not much work may be seen on the surface, yet the committees went promptly to work and it is in committee rooms that the most effective service may often be given, even if it does not attract so much attention as the more theatrical and more public displays in the public chambers. There could be little legislation at the beginning that would be hasty, and no legislation.

An incident at the funeral of the late John Coyne, on Morgan street Sunday afternoon will serve as a lesson for similar occasions along the line of the new traction road. The funeral was arranged for two o'clock, and of course no thought had been given the schedule of the car line.
As the funeral cortege was ready to leave the house, the two o'clock car came back from its trip, and caused some inconvenience to the vehicles.
Since a regular schedule has been adopted arrangements for funerals and similar occasions should be timed with reference to this schedule to avoid disturbances in the future.

The Republican National platform says explicitly that "rates of duty should be adjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration." So far as the party is concerned, therefore, it is committed to tariff revision if we are to assume that the public interest demands the change. That the public interest does demand this has been frequently asserted and many very intelligent Republicans believe it.
Many others equally intelligent believe that the uncertainty necessarily attending a revision will bring more harm than good. In other words, while they admit that some of the schedules might be readjusted and improved so far as these particular schedules are concerned, yet on the whole the injury to business in general would be greater than the benefit to come from hasty readjustment.
The whole question hinges on what the public interest demands. It is inevitable that there should be different opinions on this subject but it cannot be said that the party is committed to immediate revision until this point is settled.

The Humane Victors.

Chefoo, Jan. 23.—The first party of refugees from Port Arthur arrived here in a junk Sunday. They state that since the first few days following the surrender of Port Arthur there has been practically no looting, the Japanese officers dealing sternly with all offenders. The consensus of opinion is that the soldiers behaved with remarkable self-restraint, compared with the conduct of others in similar situations in the history of wars.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

Outlook for Some Such Legislation
Grows Brighter.

Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—The outlook is brighter than in either of the last two sessions for the enactment of a general primary election law. Most of the representatives of the smaller counties have kicked on the primary bills prepared by the state board of commerce and Indianapolis committees, because they were too elaborate and complicated. The compulsory features of the present primary law apply only to Indianapolis and Evansville. Senator Barcus of Terre Haute has introduced a simple measure for primary reform that is attracting much favorable comment and because of its simplicity it may pass. He aims to secure publicity, secrecy and fairness by providing two boxes at each voting place. In one the voter shall deposit his ballot and in the other his name, announcing his name as he deposits the tickets. The candidates shall furnish the tickets and may have watchers at the count. The penal clauses of the present Australian ballot law are to be included in the bill.
Many members regard it with favor and the senate elections committee may report it for passage this week.
The measure applies to all counties
except Marion.

"Is the pigeon an animal?" is an interesting question suggested by a bill introduced by Senator Beardsley of Elkhart, looking to the protection of animals. It cannot be properly termed a "freak" bill, but it has aroused some interest as to whether or not pigeons, doves and other birds should be classed as animals. Senator Parks has a game bill with a "freak" section containing a penalty for anyone killing more than twenty-four ducks in a single day. Some of the members say this section would not amount to anything, inasmuch as not many hunters are skillful or lucky enough to kill two dozen birds in one day's shooting.

Representative McDonald of Plymouth, one of the picturesque and rugged characters in the house, has two bills that some place dangerously near the "freak" line, although many say one would accomplish a much needed reform in that it would oblige county treasurers to account for the interest on the funds entrusted to them. The treasurer of McDonald's county established a precedent by turning over the interest to the taxpayers, and now he seeks to have it made a state law. County treasurers are sneering at the effort. McDonald's other out of the ordinary bill seeks the authorization of an appropriation to mark the site of the first church in Indiana and to in a measure reimburse
a tribe of Indians now said to be extinct for wrongs they suffered years ago from the advancing whites.

Representative McDowell of Bluffton promised an interesting "freak" at the opening of the session when he said he would introduce a bill for a uniform price for circus seats, so that the poor man and his family would not have to occupy the dimly lighted sections while the rich enjoyed the luxuries of the upholstered seats before which the prize features are paraded, but he says that he has changed his mind. He was asked to introduce such a measure, but he has passed it up, although people from all sections have written to him favoring the plan. Senator John W. Parks of Plymouth has introduced an anti-circette bill which comes close to the "freak" class, but it is hinted that the tobacco trust lobby will take care that it does not pass. Representative Yencer promised to introduce a bill for a bounty of 50 cents for chicken hawks, but it has not appeared.

Representative Gus Condo of Marion, author of a bill to abolish capital punishment will withhold it until he sees what action is taken regarding the codification commission's new criminal code. He will present the matter to the legislature, however, within a short time. Warden Reid of the state prison at Michigan City is in favor of the bill, but Superintendent Whittaker of the reformatory at Jeffersonville is not. Reid has had nearly a dozen men to execute during the last three years, and it is his belief that life imprisonment is a better punishment. Many life prisoners, he declares, have expressed the wish that they could take the place of the men doomed to the scaffold, and in that way end all their troubles at once.
Superintendent Whittaker believes in capital punishment as a restraint, and thinks it should be kept on the statutes.

Took a False Trail.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 22.—The residence of Fred Perry at Keystone was visited by vandals and every window fight in the house was smashed and even the panes were demolished.
Bloodhounds were brought from Fort Wayne and twice ran to a house near Keystone. The occupant of the house was able to prove an alibi, and as he was a stranger who moved there only two days before and did not even know the Perry family, the dogs were called off and the chase was abandoned.

COUNTY NEWS

Glenwood.

Thirteen young girls and school mates of Ruth Harwell gave her a birthday call on last Saturday afternoon, it being her eleventh birthday. She received some presents as tokens of friendship. They were entertained by Miss Ruth's Aunt, Mary Nichols. They enjoyed the ice cream and cake. All hoped she might enjoy many happy returns of the same occasion.

The M. E. Sunday school has gotten an inspiration from some source we know not where. It requires three new teachers. The new teachers are Miss and Mr. Thompson, and Miss Emma Shortridge. We trust it may continue to grow. Let every parent bring their family and come to Sunday school.

Mr. Ed. Noble and wife returned from a few days visit at Anderson.

Roy Wickoff failed to attend the Sunday school on last Sabbath afternoon.

Willie Hinchman seems to have quite an attraction at Glenwood nowadays.

Geo. Hultz is convalescing. He has had a severe attack of the Grippe.

Melville Gray is able to be up and about his business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Reynolds' baby boy Garrett, has had a severe attack of pneumonia. But at present is getting better.

Trustee Mapes had quite a good deal of business to attend to on last Saturday.

Misses Thum and Hunt of the Glenwood school received new chairs last Saturday. These were purchased by ex-trustee Hinchman. He also purchased a new set of encyclopedias for the intermediate room.

C. L. Reed, wife and mother, dined at J. W. Dickey's last Sunday, which made him late to Sunday school.

Robt. Pyke was called to Morristown last week on account of his wife's sickness. She went there to assist her daughter to move.

"John the Baptist" has been holding a protracted meeting at the M. E. church since last week and will continue this week. His sermons are growing more interesting as the meetings proceed. Now this title may deceive some, but it is what he gave himself. It is none but Rev. T. J. Anthony, pastor of the M. E. church. Come and hear him. The quarterly meet will be next Sunday eve. The P. E. will preach Sunday evening and quarterly conference will convene Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited.

A. L. Chew's new lights are affected by the cold being put up in the garret.

Theo. C. Rees went to Indianapolis last Saturday on business.

Mr. Jacob Clawson is staying with his brother John for a few days.

Albert Hinchman's baby has been very sick for a few days with a cold.

The Glenwood postoffice is now in Rush county.

Mr. Otto Cameron will occupy the room occupied by the post office.

The Rural Route agent of the Post-office department has been here for some time.

Wm. Vandiver who went to Martinsville is convalescing slowly. He had stomach trouble.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Senate Will Transform Itself Into a Court of Justice.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Unless legislation for government rate-making for the railroads shall be injected into the house this week, the legislative work-days will be devoted to the annual appropriation bills. No program on the rate question has been agreed on. However, the introduction of the Hepburn bill on this subject Saturday and the long consideration that has been given the matter in committee, indicate that the house soon will be asked to give consideration to the proposition. The District of Columbia appropriation bill has the right of way and following this the pension appropriation bill and the postoffice supply measure are next in line. These measures doubtless will consume the week, with some minor measures that may be given a little time.

The senate this week will transform itself into a court of justice for the trial of the impeachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne of Florida. It is not probable, however, that the present week will witness more than the preliminaries. The managers of the joint statehood bill are very hopeful of securing an agreement to vote on that measure before the close of the week. It is the intention of Senator Beveridge to keep the bill to the front as much as possible until it is voted on.

DISREGARDED ORDERS

And Two Trains Came Together With Deadly Consequence.

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 23.—A head-on collision between two freight trains, one a double-header, on the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Shawnee, Tenn., Sunday resulted in the death of four railroad men and the injuring of four others, two of whom may die. The wreck occurred on a single-track road.

The dead are: James Klutz, fireman, Middlesboro, Ky.; George Mooney of Corbin, engineer; Will Harris of Corbin, fireman; Brakeman Laughley of Norton, Va.

The southbound train should have met the northbound train, which was a double-header, at Wheeler, Va. The trains met 300 yards east of the station at Shawnee, at an angle of a slight curve, and came together with terrific force. All three engines were completely demolished and Fireman Klutz, Engineer Mooney, Fireman Harris and Brakeman Laughley were buried under an avalanche of steel. The northbound train was carrying twenty-five cars, seven of which were completely demolished. John Eaton, conductor, of Corbin, and his brakeman saw what was coming and escaped by cutting loose the caboose a mile from the spot where the trains came together.

Killed Sons and Himself.

McPherson, Kan., Jan. 23.—Charles Tuxhorn, a farmer living fourteen miles southwest of here, Sunday killed his two sons, aged six and ten years respectively, burned his house and barn with all of the contents, and then shot and killed himself. He had been arrested for mistreating his wife and children and was to have appeared in court today. He was forty years old.

Settlement Expected Today.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—It is the expectation of all those directly interested in the matter that a final settlement of the differences existing between the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Pennsylvania Railroad company will be reached at today's meeting of the representatives of the company and the men.

Eloping Preacher Slain.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 23.—George Carr, a colored barber and restaurant proprietor of this city, shot and killed the Rev. Greer on Commercial avenue Sunday afternoon. Greer is the pastor of the colored "Do Light" church, and some time ago he eloped with Carr's wife. Carr has threatened to shoot Greer on sight.

More Chadwick Assets.

Cleveland, Jan. 23.—United States Customs Collector Leach has found valuable invoices and laces belonging to Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick at the Chadwick home on Euclid avenue. Mr. Leach is going to learn whether duty has been paid on the articles, all of which have been imported.

Hungary Also In Trouble.

Budapest, Hungary, Jan. 23.—The gendarmerie were called out to quell a disturbance following a meeting of local Liberals at the village of Turpola. The gendarmes were fired on by the mob, killing four and wounding one of them.

New French Premier Accepts.

Paris, Jan. 23.—It is announced as practically certain that M. Rouvier has succeeded in forming a ministry and will today inform President Loubet of his acceptance of the premiership, with the names of those forming the cabinet.

Railway Engine Explodes.

Mountain Lake Park, Md., Jan. 23.—An engine attached to a Baltimore & Ohio freight train exploded near this place Sunday. Several cars were derailed and Brakeman F. Johnson and Fireman J. L. Simpson were killed.

Killed In Auto Accident.

Ormond, Fla., Jan. 23.—Frank Crocker of New York died here soon after midnight from the effects of the injuries he received yesterday in an automobile accident.

ENCOURAGING REPORT

General Lew Wallace Not in Serious Condition as Reported.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 23.—Despite the report sent from here that General Lew Wallace was dying, General Wallace's condition today is better than it has been at any time for six months, although it is true that he is not in robust health. The fact is that for the past few days he has shown a marked improvement. He works several hours each day on his autobiography and is not confined to his bed as he was several months ago.

Editorial Meeting.

Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—The annual meeting of the Indiana Annual Editorial association will be held in the Grand hotel Feb. 2. The meeting this time will be confined strictly to practical business subjects, the prevailing idea to be "how to make the newspaper business more profitable." The business meeting will be called to order at 1:30 p. m., and at 6 p. m. there will be a banquet in the ordinary of the Grand hotel.

Fatal Runaway Accident.

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 23.—John Waltz, a prominent business man here, was probably fatally injured in a runaway accident. He was trying to stop the frightened animal when it suddenly veered into a telegraph pole. Waltz was thrown completely over the horse, turning a somersault and breaking his back. He is not expected to live.

THOUSANDS PERISHED

The Situation in Armenia Told by American Consul.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The state department has made public portions of an important report recently made by Dr. Thomas H. Norton, American consul at Harput, Turkey, on the results of a tour of investigation made by him under instructions from the department, through the vilayets of Bitlis and Van, which were the scenes during several months last summer of repeated attacks upon and massacres of Armenian Christians by the Kurds and other elements of the Moslem population. These disturbances, attended by frightful atrocities and savage cruelty, resulted in death, suffering and destitution. Judge Norton says Mush is practically an armored camp, where Armenians are in constant terror.

He estimates that in the Sassun district 5,000 lives were lost in last summer's massacres, including 2,771 children. Several thousand refugees who fled to Mush were forced to return to their ruined villages, where the vilayet authorities made an allowance of one cent a day per capita for food. The question for the moment, he says, is what is to be done to save the surviving population of Sassun, numbering 10,000 or more, from the results of insufficient protection and insufficient food.

Father's Bloody Vengeance.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 23.—One of the bloodiest and most sensational killings on record was committed at an early hour Sunday morning when John Gossett, a packer, killed John Doaner, another packer, at the army post. Saturday night Gossett, missing his daughter and suspecting Doaner went to the latter's house, where he found her. With a large knife he began slashing Doaner, severing his head from his body, cutting out his heart and mauling twenty-five other wounds. Gossett was turned over to the civil authorities for trial.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Mrs. Charlotte Morris is improving.
Prof. David Graham is sick with grip.
E. H. M. Berry is now able to be out after an extended illness.
A. C. Brown is confined to his home on North Morgan street with grip.
Mrs. Alexander Stewart is among the latest who are reported sick with grip.
Isaac Miller was able to be out Sunday for the first time after an illness with grip.
Mrs. Ithamer McCarty and daughter Leland, north of town, are poorly with the grip.
Clifford Lee, this paper's city editor, was off duty the greater part of today on account of grip.
The Haymakers meet tonight and will have work. All members are requested to be present.
Dick Wilson has contracted to train and drive horses for a New York horseman for the coming season.
Miss Prue Ochiltree delightfully entertained the T. B. M. club Saturday afternoon at her home on North Morgan street.
The funeral of John Coyne was held at the Catholic church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial was in Calvary cemetery.
The remains of Garret B. Shawhan arrived here yesterday from Mobile, Alabama, and were taken at once to East Hill cemetery, where they were buried.
Thomas Mungavin, of Connersville, who has taken a position as tailor with Bliss & Cowing, has purchased of Rev. Walter S. Campbell his property on East Seventh street for $1500.
Jesse Williamson, who came over from Connersville Saturday night to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williamson, is confined to their home on North Main street with grip.
Hiram D. Price, living northwest of town, has a horse called "Tobe" which takes their daughter Lena, age 8, one and one-half miles to school every morning and returns by himself. The horse is about twelve years old, and according to rural carrier Hiner, the horse rounds two short turns in the road and passes vehicles safely.
Shelbyville Democrat: Word received by some of the local high school boys from the high school lads of Rushville say that their outlook for a base ball team for the coming season is excellent. The school here is not very well equipped with material for a team and may not attempt to organize one.

News reaches us that a gang of pack peddlers, supposed to be Italians, are visiting farm houses. They have been particularly numerous in the vicinity of Lyons Station and Springersville and their conduct has been reprehensible. It is said that they watch until the husband or other man about the house is absent and then call and exhibit their wares. They use threatening attitudes and language, tainted with obscenity and so frighten the women that they gladly make purchases to get rid of them. If what is said of them is true, they deserve to be chased out of the county.

The snow-fall this morning made the twelfth of the present winter season.

Shelbyville Republican—Mrs. Jacob Seibert is spending a few days with Rushville relatives.

The new Carnegie library building at Greensburg, will be dedicated Tuesday. The address will be made by Dr. William Lowe Bryan, who is connected with the State University at Bloomington, and who will, after July 1st, become the president of Franklin college.

Greensburg Graphic: Dr. B. W. Fitzpatrick, of Columbus, called on friends there yesterday while enroute to Rushville. Mrs. J. W. Brann, of Harris City, called on relatives here yesterday while on her way to Rushville.

Actuated by petitions from the clergy and public sentiment, the faculty of Purdue University has decided to abolish the annual Thanksgiving day football contest, and President Stone announced that hereafter the football season at Purdue would close on the Saturday proceeding Thanksgiving.

Walter Maslock, of Circleville, while crossing the ice west of the Circleville bridge, Saturday evening, fell through and received a thorough ducking. John F. Boyd and W. A. Mull, of Circleville, were out Saturday evening thawing out the gas mains which connect their homes with a gas well in this city and which had become frozen.

Connersville Examiner: The statement has been made that Irish Lindsay who made such a fine record as pitcher for the Connersville base team last year has signed with the Middletown club for the coming season. Such is not the fact. Manager LaRue of the local ball club had a letter from Irish yesterday in which he contracted to play with the Connersville club this year. He says he would rather play with our local team than any other in existence.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY

"Now what do you think of that," remarked a well known man in this city, who boarded the one o'clock car for Morristown Sunday, as the car came to a stop at Arlington, and a blind man came out to see it.

TELEPHONE WAR AT NEW CASTLE.

New Castle (Ind.) Courier.
The telephone war is now on and petitions are being circulated among the merchants and business men with the idea of getting the signatures of three-fourths of the patrons of the Central Union Telephone company all agreeing to displace with the services of that company providing the required number of signatures is secured. The petition is carefully worded and in it the Central Union company is singled out and judging from the petition the fight is to be made on that company. Why this is the case no one will venture an explanation.
One committee presented the petition to the business men while another committee saw all of the physicians. Up till 2 o'clock this afternoon eleven of the physicians had signed their willingness to get along without the use of the Bell telephone, but nothing is known of the number of names on the petition which was circulated among the business men.
The argument is made that everyone can get along with but one telephone. This is probably true, but now that two companies hold valuable franchise in New Castle and Henry county and as each company has invested large sums of money locally it will be a pretty hard matter to drive either one out of business. The telephone fight promises to be one of long duration owing to the time that must be consumed in argument and seeing those who now patronize both companies. The physicians evidently held a meeting either Wednesday night or some time very recently and this action on their part is the result of their deliberations.

THE TWO CARS WERE CROWDED

Many People Ride To and From Morristown on Sunday.

One O'clock Car Stalled Four Miles Out—The First Day's Trouble.

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company established a temporary two-hour service between this city and Morristown Sunday, and the cars were crowded all day with people who rode for the mere pleasure of the thing.

The first car left this city at 7 a. m. and on returning left Morristown at 8 o'clock. The cars were kept running on the two-hour schedule until one o'clock in the afternoon, when the company's troubles commenced.

The 12 o'clock city car was hung up at the Big Four crossing for over an hour, owing to a broken engine which was unable to move its train from the crossing. In the course of time an engine arrived from Anderson and cleared the crossing. The one o'clock Morristown car was delayed a half hour on account of the freight. All went well with the car, which was No. 301, until it reached Gas Williams place four miles from town. At that point something became wrong with the rear air compression and the car came to a stop. The crew worked for almost an hour trying to adjust the difficulty, and after it had been fixed, the car journeyed to Arlington where it again refused to proceed, in the presence of some one hundred people who had gathered to see it go by. In the mean time the men at the power house noticed by the switch board that something was wrong and they started a "special" to the rescue. When this car arrived at Arlington, the passengers were transferred and taken to Morristown. That is the reason there was no three o'clock car out of Rushville for Morristown.

WILL ENFORCE LAWS

Governor Hanly is taking notice of law violators throughout the State, especially where police boards exist. A move of reform has struck many cities already. Slot machines are taken out and in some instances destroyed, and saloons are closed tight on Sundays.
Gamblers driven out of the larger towns are flocking to the smaller ones. Friends of Governor Hanly say his power extends in a measure to all cities, if he sees fit to exercise it.
